CONFERENCE

Safeguarding international students

WEDNESDAY
16
JUNE 2021
09:30-16:30

It has always been understood that children who travel great distances from their homes for their education are vulnerable and merit specific thought when developing safeguarding and child protection policies within schools. From a safeguarding perspective, there can be added complications relating to the responsiveness of your local authority in supporting international students, and perhaps even corresponding with an overseas agency. The ongoing COVID pandemic has highlighted how important it is that schools are prepared to recognise and respond to the safeguarding needs of their international students.

Topics include:

- Working with local and international agencies
- Cultural sensitivities, boundaries, and safeguarding concerns
- Online safety
- Mental health and medical care
- Case study analysis, what would you do?
- Child protection worldwide: agenda and progress.

Cost: £185 members • £370 non-members
